STEEL STILL LOWER BUT STOCKS RALLIED.

Is Rockefeller Pounding the Stock to Obtain Control?

Northern Securities and British Consols Touch Low Mark Today.

Bankers and Brokers Prepared for the Worst When Stock Exchange Opened This Morning—Chicago Iron Man Predicts Rockefeller Will Control the Steel Trust.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 29.—A special telegram this noon to The Press from New York says:

John D. Rockefeller is pounding steel stocks with the ultimate view of securing complete control of the corporation, is the confident assertion made today by a Wall street broker. With Rockefeller in control of the steel trust he would be able to force the execution of the contract between the Carnegie company and the Wash-bash railroad whereby the Carnegie company was to furnish 25 per cent. of its westbound business to the Wash-bash provided the road entered Pittsburg. Pennsylvania interests have purposed fighting this contract through J. P. Morgan. It is said today that Rockefeller having determined to go into the market for United States Steel, first began the operation by dumping large blocks of it in Wall street, in order to start the downward course, his brokers at the same time buying up the stock sold by Rockefeller as well as that squeezed out by the consequent drop. Mr. Rockefeller has been for years more or less interested in the steel industry and once in full control of the trust he will change its management. It may be recalled that John Lambert, the Chicago iron man, said a few weeks ago that the public would wake up some day to find Rockefeller in control of the steel trust.

NEW LOW RECORDS.
New York, Sept. 29.—Bankers and brokers came downtown this morning prepared for the worst when the stock exchange opened. It was figured that the many days of declines would culminate in a spasm approaching a panic, and in view of yesterday's almost complete demoralization it was figured that today would see the worst.

STOCKS TOOK A RALLY.
New York, Sept. 29.—A rally in the stock market resulted after the noon hour today. Preferred steel rose some 3 points and closed at 16 3-8. Other stocks made gains in sympathy.

FAILURE ANNOUNCED.
New York, Sept. 29.—The failure of Taylor & Mandeville is announced on the Consolidated Stock Exchange. The heavy slump in security values is said to be the cause of the firm's suspension.

GREENSBURG BOY.
Greensburg, Ind., Sept. 29.—As the result of a personal clash between Walter Beagle and Night Policeman Elmer Robbins that occurred Saturday night on West Main street Beagle died at the county jail yesterday from the effects of a bullet which found lodgment in his left lung, while Robbins is suffering from dangerous cuts on the left hand and arm, and also several ugly slashes on the left thigh.

GRAPPLED With Burglar and Recovered His Property Stolen.

NO INDICTMENT IS FOUND IN REICHLIN CASE.
Elyria, O., Sept. 29.—The grand jury of Lorain county completed its work this morning. No indictment was found in the Reichlin murder case. Prosecutor Stroup refuses to say anything about the case except that no indictment was found by the grand jury after 70 witnesses were heard.

CONSOLS VERY LOW.
London, Sept. 29.—There was a heavy closing out of accounts here today, as this is the first making up day for consols, and in consequence there was a decline in consols to 86 7-8, the lowest point reached since the panic of 1866. They later recovered to 87 3-8. The new account was made up at 87 1-4. It is not believed that any more than minor embarrassments are probable.

OFFICERS DISGUISED AS TRAMPS THROWN INTO PRISON.

ROPE Stretched Letting Murderer's Feet Touch The Floor.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 29.—Peter Lenousky was hanged this morning for murdering Anthony Sennick with whose wife he was in love. Lenousky swore he would never hang but he was given no chance to suicide. The drop fell and the rope stretched two feet and his feet rested on the floor. The sheriff and assistants had to lift the hanging man from the floor to kill him. Several hundred spectators, many of whom got into the death room on forged passes, turned sick at the sight and left the execution. Lenousky repented as he went to the gallows and confessed the crime.

HANNA And Herrick on an Electric Car That Was Wrecked in Northern Ohio Today.

Berlin Heights, O., Sept. 27.—The special car bearing Hanna, Herrick and party on the Lake Electric ran into a derailing switch east of this city at 11:30 this morning. None was injured, though the occupants were thrown from the seats and badly shaken up.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Delphos, O., Sept. 29.—Mrs. Frank Follas was starting a fire with coal oil this morning when the can burst, throwing the burning fluid over her clothing. She ran to a bedroom where her husband was, leaving a trail of fire through the house. Follas while endeavoring to rescue his wife was nearly burned to death. The woman died at 11 o'clock. The house took fire and was consumed. Three small children were rescued.

CONDENSED LATE ADVOCATE TELEGRAMS BOILED DOWN.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 29.—The situation in the Canadian Soo is quiet this morning after a day of rioting yesterday. It is believed that no further violence will be attempted by the 2,000 idle miners who attacked and wrecked the offices of the Consolidated Lake Superior company yesterday and committed other acts of depredation. City officials across the river express the belief that Premier Ross' assurance to the workmen that the Dominion government will endeavor to protect their interests will cause the men to await developments looking to their realizing on their back pay checks. Regular troops from Toronto will arrive this afternoon.

London, Sept. 29.—At a meeting of the Aldermen, held at Guild Hall today, Sir J. T. Ritchie was elected Lord Mayor of London for the coming year.

Eric, Pa., Sept. 29.—The Chicago-New York automobile with Laurie Duffie and a companion aboard went through Eric at 11:20 this morning. The men lost a few minutes by going downtown, apparently having missed the direct route. The machine did not stop here. Duffie expects to make New York in 5 hours. Up to the present he is ahead of the schedule by two hours.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 29.—At 7 o'clock this morning Mrs. Var. Wormer left this city for Dannemora where she will bid farewell to her three stepsons, Willis, Burton and Frederick, who will die at noon on Thursday. The woman is heart-broken because she cannot claim the bodies after the electrocution. She will see Warden Deyo and endeavor to make some arrangements whereby she can have the remains of all brought to Greenport for burial.

Zanesville, O., Sept. 29.—The Ohio Canal Association before adjourning adopted resolutions for the improvement of Ohio water ways. The resolutions state that it is the sense of the convention that it would be good public policy for the Ohio canal from Cleveland to Dresden to be put in shape for a navigable stage of five feet and that all improvements should be made looking to the permanency of such public works and ultimate enlargement as the needs require. An appropriation is demanded from the general assembly.

Belgrade, Sept. 29.—Officers of the Serbian garrison at Nisch, who were connected with the conspiracy to depose from military and political power the regicides of King Alexander and Queen Draga and to have the regicides tried by court martial, were today sentenced. Captain Novakovich, who was ringleader in the conspiracy, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and others to short terms. In the neighborhood of 30 floors were in the conspiracy.

TRIAL OF GOV. TILLMAN.

Jury Secured and Evidence is Being Heard.

There is a Large Attendance and the Most Intense Interest is Manifested—Man Who Shot Editor Gonzales on Trial in the South.

Lexington, S. C., Sept. 29.—The jury which will try Ex-Gov. Tillman for the murder of Editor Gonzales of the Columbia State, was secured yesterday afternoon and the taking of testimony was commenced. The case resumed this morning, G. F. Bolland, an employee of the Columbia State business office took the stand and identified a bullet which he took from a boy at the scene of the tragedy a few minutes after the shooting. The bullet had passed through Gonzales' body. There is a large attendance at the trial and the most intense interest is manifested.

Lexington, S. C., Sept. 29.—James H. Tillman, formerly lieutenant governor of South Carolina, is now on trial in the circuit court of Lexington county under an indictment charging him with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, editor of the Columbia State.

Judge Frank B. Gary presided. It was 11 o'clock when the prosecutor for this circuit, J. M. Thurmond, announced that the state was ready to proceed with the trial of the case, and by the time the midday recess was taken at 1:30 p. m. the defendant had been arraigned, a jury drawn and charged, and all was in readiness for the introduction of testimony.

The court room was well filled, but not crowded. Probably never in the history of the judicial court has there been so great an array of counsel engaged in the trial of a case in the circuit or perhaps in the entire state. The solicitors were assisted by five attorneys, while the defendant has 11 lawyers, W. G. W. Croft, a representative in congress from Aiken, as chief counsel, conducting the defense.

Mrs. J. H. Tillman and the mother of the defendant were present and remained throughout the day's session. A vigorously contested legal battle is in prospect. It was manifested at the outset of the trial that every inch of the ground is to be contested. Nevertheless the case proceeded rapidly at the start.

Immediately on reconvening at 3 p. m. the examination of witnesses was begun, and when court adjourned six witnesses had testified. Beginning today court will sit early and late in order to push the trial to a conclusion.

The defense having announced its readiness to go to trial, the defendant, who was in an ante-room, where he had been in consultation with his attorneys prior to the calling of his case, was brought into court and directed to stand in the dock, when he was arraigned in accordance with the law and custom of this court. He was calm, and when asked to plead replied in a clear and firm voice, "Not guilty."

The indictment charges the carrying of concealed weapons as well as the more serious violation of law. Mr. Tillman took a seat close to his attorneys, where he listened intently to the proceedings. When the court directed the impaneling of a jury a six-year-old boy drew from the hat in which had been placed the names of those composing the panel, a slip of paper bearing the name of a juror, who was called, and accepted. It was not until 1 p. m. that a second was secured, and there was every indication that a jury could be secured in the Indian tea industry.

INDIA'S TEA INDUSTRY.
The number of persons employed in the tea industry throughout British India was, in 1902, 606,830 permanently, and 90,349 temporarily. It is said that a capital of more than $200,000,000 is was every indication that a jury could be secured in the Indian tea industry.

MANY ARE SLAUGHTERED.

Turks Surrounded Party of Refugees Seeking Safety in Flight to the Mountains—Bulgarian Fears Allayed By the Porte—Troops Recalled.

Monastir, Macedonia, Sept. 24.—Via Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 28.—It is estimated that 50,000 villagers of the vilayet of Monastir are now refugees in the mountains and mostly in a terrible destitute condition. They escaped from the 111 villages which have been wholly or partially burned by the Turks, which contained 10,222 houses, of which 9688 were burned.

At Malkotirnov only a hundred Bulgarian families remain out of 1500. A body of 200 families fleeing towards Bulgaria from villages in the Losengrad district were surrounded by Turkish troops in the Urmudjak mountains and all of them are alleged to have been slaughtered.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.
Beirut, Syria, Sept. 29.—As this dispatch is mailed the situation at Beirut remains unchanged, there being a great feeling of uncertainty. A correspondent called on board the United States cruisers Brooklyn and San Francisco yesterday and found them armed camps.

The disturbances here began on the night of Friday, Sept. 4. A murder was committed which was by no means an unusual thing; but, in this instance, a native Christian killed a Moslem.

AMERICAN GIRL A MACEDONIAN REBEL

OF THE FIGHTING SENATOR, JOHN C. CALHOUN, IS GRAND NIECE A CHIEF REVOLUTIONIST—HE IS THE HEIR OF A LONG LINE OF KINGS AND SHE MAY YET BE AN EMPRESS.

Sept. 29.—The Macedonian belief, that organization which is threatening to plunge the whole Balkan peninsula into war, has now as one of its chiefs an American girl. She was born Eleanor Calhoun, a grandniece of the great South Carolina statesman, Senator John C. Calhoun.

Austria, where he became a lieutenant in the Austrian army. In 1857, when Lazarovich was 25 years old, the idea of doing something to compel the sultan to cease oppressing Macedonia occurred to him in a novel manner. Turkey was then at her old game of tyrannizing over the Christian Macedonians, and many of who once threatened to take South Carolina out of the union, and her home is at Los Angeles, Cal. Her father, Judge Calhoun, now dead, was one of the big politicians of the Pacific coast.

Miss Calhoun recently became the bride of Eugene Lazarovich, the founder of the Macedonian committee, and with him she is now traveling in western Europe, managing the campaign which the committee is carrying on with the great powers.

She and her husband are engaged in an effort to raise $100,000 as a loan to be repaid when Macedonia secures self-government.

Mrs. Lazarovich expects to visit America shortly and appeal to the husband's country to secure a measure of that independence which the western republic wants to see spread throughout the world.

Mrs. Lazarovich by right is entitled to the appellation of "her royal highness," for she is recognized by the Serbian government as the consort of a possible pretender to the Belgrade throne and both are declared from ever entering Serbia.

Lazarovich, because of his commission in the Austrian army, was unable to leave his post and organize the local committees throughout Macedonia. He therefore sent to Athens for a famous Macedonian refugee, named Stephanos Makedon, familiarly known as "Caut. Stephen." To him was entrusted the formation of the "comitajes" throughout the Balkans, and he built up the committee in Athens, Bukarest, Sofia and Belgrade. Lazarovich directed everything from Vienna, and when the "comitajes" began to make themselves felt, the source of all the disturbance was traced to him, and he resigned his commission. He left Vienna for Paris and London, whence he began to pour arms and ammunition into Macedonia. He has spent in the last 10 years more than $50,000 of his private fortune in this way.

IMMENSE CROWDS OUT

Mayor Johnson Received Everywhere With Enthusiasm.

CONDUCTING A BRILLIANT CAMPAIGN.

Democratic Party Now Headed Right, and Through It the People Will Achieve a Great Victory—Welfare of the People of Ohio Demands Its Triumph at the Polls.

Flying across country in his famous "Red Devil," Mayor Tom L. Johnson has invaded, since this campaign began, many Republican strongholds and has spoken to from 4,000 to 6,000 people every night. In addition he has addressed morning and afternoon assemblies ranging from 400 to 1,000 people. It has been a whirlwind campaign, and, though the physical strain on Mr. Johnson has been intense, he shows up every morning after a short night's rest, smiling and chipper as ever. The endurance of this man from Cleveland, who seems to be able to talk at any time and any place without tiring a minute, is marvelous.

"Mr. Johnson, I understand you have said that General Charles Dick does not pay his debts," said a stranger, interrupting the mayor at his Perry county meeting. "Isn't it true that you owe $400,000 back taxes in Cuyahoga county and refuse to pay them?"

"It is true that Charley Dick does not pay his debts, I am informed," replied Mr. Johnson, laughing, "and it is not true that I don't pay my taxes. It is a long time since that question has been put to me. It has been answered by the people of Cleveland in five successive elections to the extent of over 5,000 majority each time. As a political issue it is played out there. Morganthaler, the tax inquisitor—that's the man who brought the suit against me—would get 25 per cent of all that he could collect from me. He has never made any effort to collect; that is, not through the courts, for he has never been ready for the suit to be tried. There is so little truth in the charge that I owe back taxes that I told Morganthaler that if he would find this property on which he claimed I had not paid taxes, I would give him half of the property. Do you believe that if I had property on which I owed $400,000 back taxes that I could conceal it so that the tax inquisitor could not find it, and do you believe that he wouldn't find it when it meant over $100,000 in his pocket in the shape of fees? Have you any more questions, my friend?"

"Yes, I—" "Oh, shut him up! Throw him out!" yelled a score or more of voices.

"No! No!" cried Mayor Johnson. "This is not a Republican meeting. No man has ever been put out of this tent for asking questions, and no man ever will be put out for that reason. We want questions here. That's the way people get light. Go on with your questions, my friend."

"I want to know how you expect to get the votes of the farmers, Mr. Johnson, when you are an advocate of the single tax on land?"

"But I am not an advocate of single tax on land," was the quick retort to the Democratic candidate for governor.

"What! Don't you believe in single tax?" in astonishment. "With all my heart. I believe in single tax on land value—not on land. What's the difference?"

"The value, my friend. Now you do not look like a farmer, but you may be representing the farmers. If you are, carry this back to them. The farmers own 7 to 10 per cent of the land value of the United States, and the trusts, railroads and city people own the other 90 per cent. The farmers are at present paying from 45 to 50 per cent of the taxes in the United States, and all the other people are paying the balance. A single tax, or, in other words, a tax on land values, would mean that the farmers would only have to pay 7 to 10 per cent of the taxes. Now if you admit that my figures are correct you must agree that while single tax might not be a good thing for some wealthy men who own large tracts of valuable land lying idle in cities, it would be a good thing for the farmers. If you do not admit that my figures are correct, come around to the hotel after the meeting and I will undertake to prove to you that they are. Is my answer to your question satisfactory?"

"Never mind about that, Mr. Johnson, but I will admit that you have presented the matter in a light that had never occurred to me."

At another meeting a man who asserted that he was a commercial traveler propounded the following:

"You say that if a Democratic legislature is elected that within three months after the session begins next January all the people of Ohio will be able to ride on steam railroads for 2 cents a mile?"

"Yes, sir, that is what I say."

"Well, now, supposing that you do bring down the fare to 2 cents a mile, how is that going to benefit commercial travelers, who now ride at that rate?"

I want to know if you believe that in

"No I don't, but—" "One more question. Do you travel on a commission?"

"Part commission and part salary." "Pay your own expenses?"

"Yes." "And every time you buy a mileage book you put up $20 for the book and an additional deposit of $10 as a guarantee that you will use the book yourself, don't you?"

"Yes, but—" "Do you know how many million dollars are now in the hands of the railroad companies of the United States made up of those $10 deposits?"

"No." "Well, my friend, it amounts to a great deal more than you or I will ever possess, in all probability. The railroads do not pay any interest on that money, though they have the use of it. Don't you think a 2-cent fare, that would keep that money in the hands of the commercial travelers would be of some benefit to them? What do you say?"

"I haven't anything to say. I'm doing some thinking." "Well, my friend, if the masses of the people also do some thinking between now and the 3rd of November, we'll have a 2-cent railroad fare by next spring; laws that will give absolute home rule to counties, cities and villages, and a system of taxation that will make the railroads pay their full share of taxation and will not require the farmers and small home owners to pay more than their share. It can not be single tax, however, as the people of the state will have to vote to amend the constitution before we can have that. I am not asking any man to vote for me; I never have and I never will. We present the facts, and on them we rest our case. I have never supported a Democrat that I believed to be crooked, and I have never fought a Republican that I believed to be right."

"Senator Hanna says that 2-cent fare is anarchy; that home rule is Populism, and that the abolition of the fee system in county offices is Socialism. Has he grown so desperate in his fear of defeat that he can offer no better objections to the triumph of the Democratic ticket? He says these principles of the Democratic platform are anarchistic, populist and socialistic, and he cries out, 'God Help Us! God help us to persuade the people of Ohio to believe that a 2-cent fare is not a good thing for the man with 30 cents, though it may be a good thing for the man with $30.'"

"All we ask of the people, my friends, is that they shall compare the two parties as they stand today, and then vote for the one which they believe to be right. The Democratic party has not always been right, but, thank God, it is headed right at last, and by that token it will win, finally, a great victory—not a victory for the Democratic party, but for the people."

THE NEW SLOGAN "GOD HELP US!"

"God help us,"—Hanna. "God help us to stand pat."—Hanna. "God help us to keep the steam railroad fares at 3 cents a mile."—Hanna. "God help us to assist the steam railroads in not paying their just taxes."—Hanna. "God help us to prevent just taxation generally in the state."—Hanna. "God help us to prevent the people from having home rule."—Hanna. "God help us to steer clear of fads and isms."—Hanna. "God help us to kill off 3-cent fare in Cleveland."—Hanna. "God help us to elect a supreme judge who believes in perpetual franchises."—Hanna. "God help us to elect Wade Ellis attorney general of the state, so that Boss Cox of Cincinnati can run him."—Hanna. "God help us to elect me senator again, so that I can get the ship subsidy steal through congress."—Hanna. "God help us to get the legislature, so that we may steal the canals of the state for George B. Cox & Company."—Hanna. "God help us to continue to keep the Republican voters in darkness, so that we may continue to fool them."—Hanna. "God help us to spend the boodle of the railroads and public service corporations of the state, so as to corrupt the election just once more."—Hanna. "God help us make the people believe that Tom L. Johnson is a pestilence."—Hanna. "God help us to retain enough of our great Republican majority of the state to pull through in November."—Hanna. "God help us to fool the farmers into believing that the single tax is a scheme to place all the taxes on the farms, and thus they will forget that the steam railroads are escaping taxation."—Hanna. "God help us to escape any fair discussion of the real issues of the present campaign."—Hanna. "God help us to run fast enough so that we may not be obliged to hold any joint debate with either Tom Johnson or John Clarke."—Hanna. "And God help us to stand pat."—Hanna.

"Look out for Populism and Socialism!" warns Dick, and Dick is the man who paid the expenses with the money of Hanna and the monopolists of the Populist state convention of 1902.

TOOK POISON

Rather Than Face the Charge of Murder—Borden's Brother Has Now Left the Town.

Jackson, Ky., Sept. 29.—Rather than meet the charge of murder, Elijah Borden committed suicide in the county jail yesterday afternoon by taking morphine. No sooner had he been committed to jail without bail than he began to ask his relatives, who were permitted to see him for a few moments, to purchase morphine for him. His uncle refused, saying that he feared he would take enough to kill him. He finally, it is alleged, prevailed upon his brother to buy the morphine, which he immediately took, and when the deputy jailer entered his cell a short time afterward he was barely alive.

Drs. Offut, Hogg and Taulbee were summoned, but could not at first get Borden to take an antidote. He finally consented, however, to take some medicine, and that, with continually working, kept him alive until 6 o'clock last evening, when he died. His brother has left town. It is supposed some of his relatives will claim the body.

Borden is a young man of some means. The killing of Boyd Griffith, on which charge he was committed to jail, arose over a difference regarding a trade of some cattle. His victim was the son of John Griffith, who is well known locally as the man who opposed Judge James Hargis for the office of county judge.

A New Back for an Old One—How It is Done in Newark.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless, piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so sore to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new one. Follow the example of this Newark citizen.

Mrs. N. W. Jarvis, No. 105 North Fifth street, says: "When I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's I had been sick for some time. In fact I could not do anything, I felt so poorly. I had a severe pain in my back and was terribly weak. I had been taking treatment, first one and another, but I felt no better. My attention was drawn to a reading notice in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills. Bad backs like mine had been cured, could mine be also? I decided to try them. They did for me what other medicines failed to do. They gently aided the kidneys and the pain in the back over the kidneys left me."

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the largest crowds ever inside the Auditorium saw the opening performance of the Verna May Stock Company, which will be here all week, in a repertoire of high class plays.

Every seat in the theater was sold long before the doors were opened and standing room was eagerly bought at the regular price of admission.

The play which the company presented was "Among the Mormons," and as it had been put on before at the Auditorium a comparison was easily made, which could not but be complimentary to the company now playing here.

The specialties are all good, this being especially true of the moving pictures, which are by long odds the best ever seen in Newark.

The bill tonight will be "The Lion and the Mouse," and there will no doubt be a large audience present to see the performance.

The one attraction that is being anticipated with the keenest interest by amusement seekers is Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's greatest of all pastoral plays, "Our New Minister." It is the biggest hit in the history of the stage and is simply sweeping everything before it. It comes again to the Auditorium on Thursday, October 15th.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

Arthur Sidman's new rural play "York State Folks," has been given an elaborate production. The scenic equipments, which are unusually elaborate, were built under the direction of Arthur Voegtlin, who is said to have done the best work of his career in putting out canvas these scenes from village life in "York State." There are two carloads of scenery and effects, and a company numbering 50 people including a choir of 30 boys. Mr. Sidman has drawn his characters from life as he knew it in his native town in central New York, and several of the types are said to be new to the stage. Realism of a homely and appealing kind is the keynote of the drama, which is said to be a departure from the type of rural play which has sensationalism and broad low comedy for its foundation. "York State Folks" will be seen at the Auditorium Monday, October 5.

The American-Tribune, as is that paper's usual policy, hastens to make a little cheap political capital out of any event or incident that appears to it at first glance to offer such an opportunity, and on Monday there were two items of news printed in that paper which seemed to it to be sweet morsels of political demagoguery, viz Judge Seward's decision in the natural gas case, and State Examiner Miller's report of the fiscal affairs of the municipality. In the first instance a leading editorial is called forth under the caption "Blame the Democratic Council."

If it be true that the council that passed the franchise ordinance was guilty of "marvelous incapacity or unaccountable carelessness," are only those members who happen to be Democrats, to share the approbrium of its passage? Are the Republican members of that same council, who voted for the ordinance, absolved from all blame by the American-Tribune?

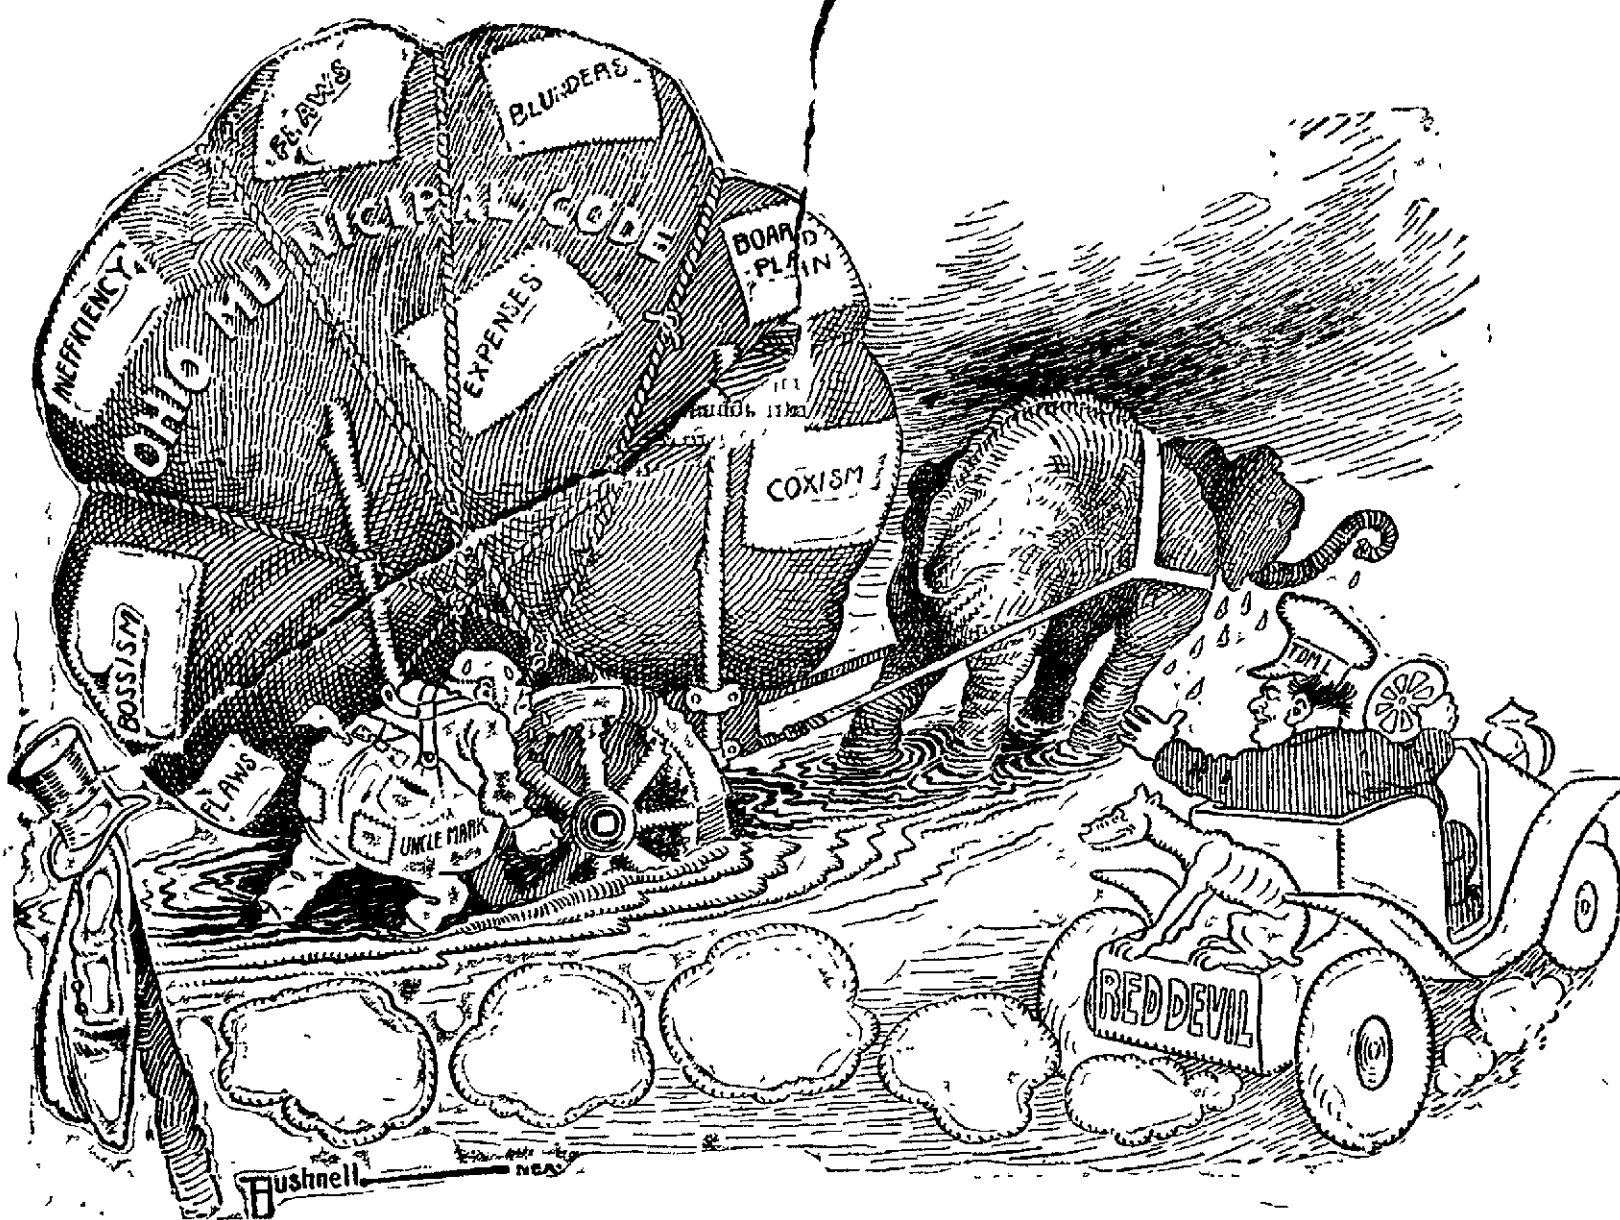

As a matter of fact every Republican member of that body at that time, except one, voted for the ordinance, and that one, had introduced another franchise ordinance which the council refused to consider, and he was therefore bound to vote against any other ordinance, or stultify himself.

It is also a matter of fact that the Democrats held no caucus on the ordinance, nor did they take any concerted political action, as has always been the case when Republican councils wished to get a job through. Such being the case there can be no political significance in the passage of the ordinance. Each Democrat and each Republican who voted for it, must assume his share of the responsibility, and take his proportionate part of the blame and no more. They are and will be held responsible for their individual votes, and because there happened to be more Democrats than Republicans in the council, will not increase the onus of individual guilt, nor lessen the burden of individual responsibility.

In the matter of Inspector Miller's report, the injustice and unfair dealing of the American-Tribune with City Auditor Maurath, and that paper's deliberate attempt to mislead its readers, appears in the headlines which read across three columns as follows: "Found to be in a bad shape." Now the report of Inspector Miller is printed in full, and those who read this report will realize the misleading character of the headline.

The gist of his entire report is contained in one paragraph which should be featured in any newspaper having the interest of the city at heart,

AS TOM. L. SEES IT.

TOM L.: "YOU CAN'T MAKE SPEED WITH THAT LOAD, UNCLE MARK. TA! TA!"

instead of being actuated by petty political malice. The paragraph follows:

"The good sized balances in most of the operative funds of the city and the large balance in the general surplus account, are items of facts upon which the city officials should be commended and the people of the corporation congratulated."

The criticism of the manner in which the special assessment accounts are kept, merely voices that which has been well known to City Auditor Maurath, and will be remedied by him. In fact he had already introduced and carried out many improvements in this particular before Inspector Miller visited Newark. The method is an old one used by his predecessors, and in view of the fact that Auditor Maurath has been busy making his department one of the best in Ohio, he should feel extremely gratified that an expert inspector only found fault with the METHOD in just one single instance.

If Senator Hanna is afraid to debate with his Democratic opponent, Mr. Clarke, why doesn't he hire a substitute as he did in the Civil War?

THE TAXATION ISSUE.

The Constitution of Ohio provides that real and personal property shall be taxed uniformly.

The legislature cannot change the constitution. Hence the spellbinder and orator, who declares that the election of a Democratic legislature means the adoption of Henry George's single tax theories, knowingly seeks to deceive the voters.

But the most ridiculous lie that has yet appeared is the statement that the single tax doctrine if adopted would be burdensome to the farmers. Less than one-tenth of the land values in Ohio is in the farming lands. The farmers now pay 50 per cent. of the taxes. Hence the Ohio farmer would be better off under a system of single tax than he now is. His cattle, agricultural implements and other personal property are always found by the assessor. The stock and bonds of the Baers, the Herricks and the Hannas are always hidden from view.

The Democratic platform pledges its legislative candidates to no vain thing. It does advocate such legislation as will compel the assessment of steam railroads and other public service corporations at not less than their "salable value as going concerns." In other words, the party stands for equal rights to all mankind and special privileges to none in the matter of taxation as in all other matters. That is why the millionaire railway magnates like Hanna and their horde of hirelings abuse and vilify Tom Johnson. They want for their railroads free franchises and exemption from taxation on their franchise values. They want to perpetuate men like Guilbert, who, by the abuse of the functions of his office, helped the public service corporations of Cleveland to escape the payment of just taxes levied upon them.

They want men like Attorney General Sheets, who overturned the government of every municipality in Ohio to save Senator Hanna's street railroad company from the competition of a three-cent fare road.

The Hannas have control of the organization of the Republican party in Ohio, and use their power to help their private purses. Why should not the farmer protect his interests by voting the Democratic ticket?

BEATING WAS JUSTIFIED

Woman Who Got Drunk With Her Husband Deserved It.

Minneapolis, Sept. 29.—If a woman gets drunk with her husband she is entitled to a beating. This is the recent decision of Judge Horace Danforth Dickinson of the municipal court of Minneapolis.

A few days ago a Minneapolis woman had her husband arrested for beating her. The case was tried before Judge Dickinson. The evidence showed that the woman as well as the man was drunk and that they had taken turns in "rushing the car."

Judge Dickinson promptly discharged the man, saying that any woman who assisted her husband in getting drunk and got drunk with him had no cause for complaint if he beat her.

GEN. DICK

May Be the Next National Chairman of the Republican Committee—Gov. Odell Is Considered.

Akron, O., Sept. 29.—General Chas. Dick, of this city, may be the next national chairman of the Republican committee.

His friends are pushing him for the place, and it is not improbable that he will be selected. A dispatch from Washington says:

"Serious consideration is being given by the president and his political and official advisers to the question who shall succeed Senator M. A. Hanna as chairman of the national Republican committee next summer."

"Among these are General Dick, chairman of the Ohio state Republican executive committee, and Benjamin Odell, of New York."

A Remarkable Record. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

Less than ten years ago the telephone was a luxury enjoyed by 100 subscribers in Newark. Today there are at least 2,000 telephone users in this city.

The Newark Independent Telephone company which by cutting the prevailing rate in half made it possible for the common people to have telephone service, has in the past few months, with its brand new plant, doubled its business. Last week several thousand feet of new cable was strung to accommodate the number of subscribers who are daily being added to the company's exchange.

The Newark Telephone company today announces a new service and a new rate on certain class of service. For $1 a month a four party line will be put in your home, for $1.50 a month an independent line in residence, for $1.25 a two party selective signal phone will be installed in your home. This style of instrument rings only the party wanted and is ideal service for families. Only two parties on the line and your bell rings only when you are wanted. For $1.50 a month the company puts in a four party business house line and for $2 a month an independent business house line is given.

Remember this is the company that is growing; this is the company that has 35 stations in Licking county; this is the company that has free service with the exchange at Granville; this is the company that has direct connection with exchanges at Hebron, Utica, Johnstown, Homer and Pataskala, and which gives a ten cent rate to all Licking county points; this is the company that made a 10 cent rate to Columbus possible; this is the company that has the Central Energy system that does away with the annoyance of ringing up Central; this is the company that is made up of more than 35 Newark men and women; this is the company that in the past year has spent $60,000 in rebuilding and enlarging its plant; this is the company that gives the better service.

Persons wishing telephone service are invited to look over our new subscribers' lists, are invited to inspect our new plant, and are invited to have the "new" phone installed.

The price is right, the service is good. Our franchise will not permit an advance in rates to exceed $2 a month. What would you pay for telephone service in Newark if it were not for the Independent company? What did you pay before this company was established? Think it over a little.

HAS $100,000,000 ASSETS; CANNOT BORROW $5,000,000

WONDERFUL INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BY THE LAKE SUPERIOR CONSOLIDATED CO. AT SAULT STE. MARIE—OWNS MILLS, SHIPS, RICH MINES, RAILROADS, GREAT FORESTS AND MARVELOUS POWER PLANT.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 29.—It seems almost absurd, but the strange fact is that a company having assets of $100,000,000 is finding it impossible to raise a loan of $5,000,000. That is the condition in which the Consolidated Lake Superior Co. finds itself today, and in a week Speyer & Co., a New York financial syndicate, will foreclose on its $5,200,000 claim against the company.

Nearly a year ago the company, which up to that time seemed strong, decided to make certain expensive improvements and additions to the great works located here at the Soo, and the money needed for the project was raised by Speyer & Co. Then came the slump in the stock market and Lake Superior Consolidated securities went down. This frightened the bankers and suddenly Speyer & Co. demanded their money.

Financial concerns were appealed to,

The company owns the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay railroad. The northern terminus, when it is completed, will be Hudson bay, 480 miles from here. Fifty miles have been completed and are in operation, with 30 miles of terminals at the Sault. A branch to Sunbury is 12 miles long and along this line the company has four copper mines that produce 1000 tons of ore a day.

Ten miles out the main line plunges into the great forest that stretches clear to Hudson Bay. In this forest is the spruce for the pulp mills, hard wood for veneering, and rougher wood for the charcoal ovens, all the company's property.

The company owns great fields of solid iron ore. It has in sight enough ore to keep the $10,000,000 steel plant running full blast for 50 years. The Helen mine at Michipicoten is simply a great mountain of iron. They do not dig for the iron. They just blast off but, although J. P. Morgan offered to advance $500,000 as part of the loan, nobody else would come in. Even the stockholders have refused to help out the directors in the emergency.

The Lake Superior Consolidated Co. is one of the marvels of the industrial world. Where Lake Superior empties millions of cubic feet of water a minute into Lake Michigan is a channel only half a mile long. These are the Sault rapids, with a drop of 20 feet in the half mile. Seven years ago, the men now at the head of the Lake Superior Consolidated, dug a canal here and developed a water power of 130,000 horses at the minimum and 250,000 at the maximum.

Then they began to build shops and mills and railroads and ships, so that until a few days ago, the Lake Superior Consolidated gave employment to more than 5000 workmen and the little struggling Canadian village of Sault Ste. Marie has become an industrial city.

Here there are pulp mills for the making of paper; a $10,000,000 steel mill; a big battery of blast furnaces; sawmills that eat up the 25 acres of forest trees that the woodmen cut down every day; machine shops, car shops, charcoal ovens; a veneering plant, and factories that make many other products.

the sides of the hill and let it roll down to the docks. Nickel is made here and by an electrical treatment the nickel and iron is fused into the finest nickel steel in the world.

The company operates an electric railway system in this city and also across on the American side. It has a fleet of 17 steamers and great iron ore docks.

The Lake Superior Consolidated is now engaged in the construction of another great power plant over on the Michigan side. It has dug a canal 30 feet deep, 200 feet wide and two miles long. Through this a flood of water flowing at the rate of 108,000,000 cubic feet an hour will turn 320 turbines, each having a power of 120 horses, a combined force of 40,000 horses. This plant complete will cost $1,000,000.

But financial men say that the promoters went in too deeply, "bit off more than they could chew," with the result that the directors now announce that they can do nothing and that they are at the complete mercy of Speyer & Co. It is the opinion of New York and other eastern financiers that the stock holders will lose every dollar of the $29,000,000 they put up for the mammoth enterprise. All the mills and shops have closed and on October 1 Speyer & Co will sell out at public auction all the securities they hold

When the Board of Trade sold the Forry lots to secure for the city the mammoth stove foundry now under construction in West Newark, arrangements were made whereby one of the lot purchasers will be given a fine house and lot as a prize. That house is about to be given away.

The drawing for the Forry residence in the Wehrle addition project will be conducted as follows: The Board of Trade will appoint a committee of five reputable citizens, no one of whom is entitled to participate as a subscriber in the drawing.

The total number of chances will be calculated on a basis of every $50 contained in the purchase price of a lot upon which at least fifty per cent. of said purchase price has been paid. For instance, if the total amount of lot sales equals $60,000, then 60,000 divided by 50, equaling 1,200, will represent the total number of chances. Thus the subscriber for a $300 lot will have as many chances as 50 is contained in 300; that is to say, he will have six chances; the subscriber for a $250 lot will have five chances, and the subscriber for a $200 lot would have four chances. Printed tickets running from one to the total number of the aggregate chances will be placed in separate envelopes, which will be sealed and mixed up by the committee, so that no one will know what number he is drawing. On Thursday, October 1, those who are entitled to take part in the drawing will present themselves at the county treasurer's office in the court house at any time between the hours of 1 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. There each person will be entitled to draw as many envelopes as he has chances and will thereupon open his envelope in the presence of the committee, the clerk of which will make a record of the numbers so drawn by the lot subscriber and countersign each ticket so drawn. The stub of said ticket shall be separated from the ticket itself and shall be enclosed in an envelope sealed and deposited by the drawer in a sealed box in the custody of the committee.

All persons failing to so draw their numbers prior to 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, October 1, will have their drawings made for them by the committee.

After the committee shall have completed the drawing of number it shall place the sealed box in some safe deposit vault in the city until Friday evening, when the same shall be brought by the committee to the city hall where the final drawing will take place. This shall be done as follows: Said sealed box shall be opened in the presence of the committee, and in the presence of all subscribers who care to be present, at 8 o'clock, sharp, Friday evening, October 2. The contents of the sealed box shall thereupon be emptied into a barrel churn, which shall be closed and the contents thoroughly mixed by the operation of the churn. The churn shall then be opened by the committee and some person selected by the committee and carefully blindfolded, shall draw out of the churn thirteen of the sealed envelopes, which shall be opened by the committee and recorded in the order in which they are drawn, upon a blackboard in the hall. The thirteenth number will be the lucky number and will draw the brick house and two lots upon which it stands in the Wehrle addition.

Only the lot subscribers shall be entitled to participate in the drawing unless the right to participate in said drawing shall have been duly and properly assigned to another party or parties.

DAWSON THE GOLDEN CITY

PECULIARITIES OF A TOWN THAT GREW TO A CITY ALMOST IN A NIGHT:

Special Advocate Correspondence by Will H. Brill, Newspaper Enterprise Association's Commissioner with the U. S. Senate Committee in Alaska.

Dawson, Yukon Territory.—It there is a more peculiar town on the face of the American continent than Dawson, it would be hard to find. In 1896 there was nothing here but a swamp; in 1898 it was a city of tents and 50,000 people; today it is a model, substantial and with. It is as orderly as any town could possibly be. The laws are strictly enforced, even to the law closing saloons on Sunday. If one stands on the water front, where most of the saloons are, at five minutes before midnight on Saturday night he will not see a dozen persons. Two minutes after midnight, however, the street will be crowded and hundreds of men and women will be seen on the sidewalks. Precisely at the stroke of 12 the crowds in the saloons are thrown out in the street and the doors are closed, to remain closed until Monday morning. There is no foolishness about this closing of sa-lenty dark enough. It is seldom that the sky is overcast at night and the moon and stars, and, above all, the glorious aurora borealis, add a charm to the nights which old residents profess to believe are even more charming than those of the summer.

There is not much snow in this section of the country in the winter time. Two or three feet is about the deepest that it ever gets and it is very seldom that the fall at any one time exceeds two or three inches. But it does get cold. The thermometer at the police post at Dawson reached 72 degrees below zero one day last winter and 60 or 65 is not unusual.

People who live here, however, do not mind the cold particularly. They live for the most part in log houses, the warmest possible sort of abodes, and they dress in heavy clothes and furs. Felt shoes are always worn and the heaviest kind of woolen underclothes.

"The very cold weather is pleasant," said one old resident of Dawson in discussing it. "There is no discomfort or danger when the thermometer registers at 60 or 70 below zero, but when it gets up to 30 it is just like spring and people expose themselves and that is when they take cold and suffer the consequences. I would sooner live in Dawson when the thermometer was at 70 below zero than in the east when it was zero."

During the winter months there is very little or no wind and the atmosphere is absolutely dry. If the wind blew or it was damp it would, of course, be impossible to live.

Out on the creeks, near where Bonanza creek enters the Klondike river, is the little town of Grand Forks, a bustling village which owes its existence to the fact that it is much nearer the mines than Dawson.

In the illustration of a panning scene on the creek, Senators Nelson, Patterson and Dietrich are seen.

INCREASE

IN THE TAXABLE PROPERTY OF NEWARK

Of Nearly a Half Million Dollars in a Year—Total is Seven and a Quarter Millions.

County Auditor A. R. Pitser has just completed the tax duplicate for Newark City. It shows a total valuation of real and personal property for taxation in the city of $7,250,000. This is an increase over last year in valuation for taxation of $255,000, or nearly half a million dollars. This is certainly a good showing for our prosperous and rapidly growing city, and shows that Newark is enjoying a steady and constant growth.

WEBB STREET VIADUCT.

Committee Meets in Council Chamber This Evening—Outline of the Object of the Committee And History of the Webb Street Closing.

The Advocate is glad to see that an organized movement has begun looking to the construction of a viaduct over the B. & O. railroad, to give the people of the First Ward, lying south of the railroad, known as Texas, access northward over the tracks. The people of that locality have certainly had hard luck in the last ten years, and this has come from unjust and unwarranted treatment. About the year 1871, and before the B. & O. leased the Central Ohio railroad, the Texas region was laid out in city lots, and Webb street was laid out and regularly opened from Main street south over the then single track of the Central Ohio, to the Licking river, and became an absolute street and public highway of said city, and was continually used as such. A great many people, and many of humble means, purchased lots in Texas and erected their homes in that locality, until quite a large and thriving population occupied the territory in good faith, and depended on Webb street their only outlet, and that its integrity as a street would be preserved.

In 1872 the B. & O. leased the Central Ohio, and commenced to build its shops and lay additional tracks over Webb street, and continued doing so until, at present, there are thirty tracks over Webb street; but still the people there had the right and did use the street. In 1888 the B. & O. suggested to the city council that if it would vacate Webb street, the company would replace it with a viaduct over Webb street crossing, or at a short distance east of it, and presented to the council blue prints of the proposed viaduct. The council acquiesced in the proposition and the matter would perhaps have been carried out then, but that time the B. & O. became embarrassed and the matter was dropped, and things went on as they were.

About the year 1898 the B. & O. applied to the council to vacate Webb street, suggesting as a reason that it would relieve Second, Third and Fourth streets from the switching nuisance; and it is said suggested the old project for a viaduct for the benefit of Texas. The council passed the ordinance vacating Webb street. The B. & O. at once closed it up, and the people were absolutely shut off from the use of the same and were deprived of all access northward, and in times of high water shut off from all parts of the city.

The people of Texas applied to the court of common pleas to enjoin the shutting up of Webb street, and Judge Jones of the common pleas granted the injunction. The company appealed the matter to the circuit court, and that court dissolved the injunction, holding the people of Texas had no right to the street whatever and denying them any remedy or relief.

And so matters have remained to the present time. That part of the city has become nearly ruined, and the property greatly depreciated in value. The present city council has now taken the matter up, and is asking the assistance of its citizens and the B. & O. to do something in the matter. In June last a petition was presented to the council by the people of Texas asking for relief, the same was referred to the street committee, which reported to the city council that relief ought to be granted, and that a commission should be appointed by the council made up as follows: the four members of the street committee, consisting of Jos. Moser, Judge Hunter, E. J. Carlisle, and Henry Baker; four citizens to be appointed by the council appointed as follows: J. A. Flory, Edward H. Everett, Mayor A. J. Crilly and George Fromholtz; and four members of the Board of Trade and which were appointed by that body as follows: W. H. Smith, A. C. Dickinson, C. H. Spencer and Capt. C. W. Miller.

The members of this commission will meet at the City Clerk's office this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and will at once organize by selecting a chairman and clerk, and enter upon the discharge of their duties. The personnel of this commission is most excellent, and it is expected that it will remain in existence until the object of its creation is accomplished, or they be finally discharged by the city council. The Advocate sincerely hopes that this object will be accomplished, and not only that, but that it may be the beginning of the abolition of grade crossings in this city, especially in the principal and most congested crossings. Newark is peculiar as to its railroads. They do not run off to one side of the city, but they pierce through the center of the city in all directions, and are in every part of the city; and any one wishing to go in any direction will soon have to cross a track. Newark will never be a dead town; it is increasing all the time and in all directions, and the burden of the crossings is increasing every day and will always increase; and the time is surely coming when grade crossings will be absolutely impossible. The council sees this, the railways see this, everybody sees this. The Advocate wishes success to the commission.

GRANVILLE NOTES.

Granville, O., Sept. 29.—Grove B. Jones, son of Mr. B. I. Jones, who has been connected with the Bureau of Soils in Washington, D. C., and who for some time past has been located in northern Iowa, has received a well earned promotion. He has been visiting his parents here for the past two or three days and will leave on Wednesday in charge of a party for Fort Payne, Alabama.

Miss Grace Harris, of Columbus, who has been visiting friends here for the past week, returned home today.

John Sample, headquarters in Cleveland, spent Sunday in the village.

Hiram Evans of Springfield, O., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans, the latter part of last week.

DELICATE INSTRUMENT

Invented by Prof. Chamberlain That Adds to the Fame of Denison University's Scientific Laboratories a World Wide Importance.

Granville, O., Oct. 29.—Probably few are aware of the fact that an instrument capable of the finest degree of measurement yet attained is now being studied and used for the solution of several momentous physical problems in the laboratory of Denison University, says the Denisonian. The college paper continues as follows: It is a recent invention of Prof. C. W. Chamberlain and reflects the highest honor on him and his alma mater as it has already proved itself to be one of the most important discoveries in a score of years and the possibilities of its usefulness are well nigh inexhaustible.

The finest measurements made today are performed by optical methods and Prof. Chamberlain's instrument makes possible a degree of measurement ten times finer than the best previously attained by Prof. Michelson of the University of Chicago brought out a few years ago by his interferometer, an instrument capable of measuring optically in terms of wave lengths of light. It was supposed that this instrument was capable of measuring distances of the same order of magnitude as the atom itself. Prof. Chamberlain, however, has succeeded in compounding the interferometer so that it is ten or twelve times as delicate and has thus given himself the means of solving some of the most important problems of physical research. One of his most recent problems was the measurement of distance through which the attraction of one molecule is felt upon another and he has in mind the solution of several equally important problems bearing on the great question of the ultimate structure of matter.

Prof. Chamberlain is very busily engaged in studying the properties of this wonderful instrument and has in preparation a report of his researches for immediate publication. This report is eagerly awaited by physicists of the world over who are desirous of employing this invention in the prosecution of their work. This invention attaches to the already great fame of Denison's scientific laboratories a new and world wide importance. The Denisonian extends to Prof. Chamberlain its heartiest congratulations in appreciation of what this means to Denison and to its brilliant Professor of Physics.

Prof. Chamberlain formerly lived in northern Ohio. He was graduated from Denison in 1893 and after studying elsewhere accepted a professorship in an eastern college. He recently returned to his alma mater and succeeded Prof. A. D. Cole in the chair of physics and chemistry at Denison. Prof. Cole went to the Ohio State university.

SIAMESE BELIEFS.

Some Peculiar Notions of a Very Superstitious People.

"The Siamese are a very superstitious people," says Ernest Young, author of the "Kingdom of the Yellow Rule." "They have many peculiar explanations of natural phenomena. Thunder, for instance, is 'the sky crying.' They believe that in the realms above is a horrible giant, whose wife has a violent and uncertain temper. When they quarrel the echo of his voice comes in long, rolling notes from the clouds. If he is very angry he throws his hatchet at his unruly spouse, and when this ponderous weapon strikes the floor of heaven the thunderbolt falls through and comes to earth. "Falling stars are accounted for by the fact that the angels occasionally indulge in torch throwing at one another. When these same beings all insist upon getting into the bath at once the water splashes over the side, and it rains. The winds that sigh in the night are the voices of babies that have lost their way in their travels to the land beyond the grave. "When a Siamese dies he is not buried, but his corpse, fully dressed and then wrapped in a winding sheet, is placed in a sitting posture in a copper urn. A tube is placed in his mouth, and through this a mixture of quicksilver and honey is poured into the body. In this way it is kept for a long time, often for years. Eventually it is burned, and the ashes are carefully preserved. The souls of those whose bones at least are not burned are supposed to become slaves of a horrid taskmaster with a head like a dog, a human body and the temper of a fiend. He sits for all time with his feet in the fires of hell, and it is the duty of his slaves to keep these fires from growing too hot. To do this they must carry water in open wicker baskets through all eternity."

Hard Luck.

"Yes, lady, it may seem strange, but it was writer's cramp brought me here." "Dear me! How could that be?" "I'm a forger, and when I got writer's cramp my work got so bad that I was caught."—New York Evening Journal.

The Yellowstone park proper is one-third larger than Delaware, and the adjoining government forest reserves make an area nearly equal to that of New Jersey.

very pretty town of 5,000 people. In the towns. They are closed and closed winter this population almost doubles, for then there are thousands of people living in the town who are now on the creeks hunting for gold.

When gold was discovered in Bonanza creek, in 1896, Joseph Ladue and his partner came to this place from Circle City. Along the swamp, which bordered on the Yukon at the mouth of the Klondike river, they laid out a town and called it Dawson. In a few months there were a thousand people camped on the site, and the timber which bordered it was being cut and rude log houses were being built. Its wonderful growth in the next two years is a matter of history.

The ground on which Dawson is built is peculiar. It is swamp-like, and although the worst part of the swamps have been filled in, the soft swampy ground underneath is still frozen. In the hottest days of summer—and it gets very hot in Dawson—it is only necessary to dig down a foot or eighteen inches at the outside to reach the frozen ground, and the ice. Many of the largest buildings of the city are built on the solid ice, and the greatest of care is necessary in loading the big warehouses in order to keep them from tipping over on their insecure foundations. They must be trimmed like ships to prevent their collapse. The vault in one of the large company stores has sunk more than three feet since it was put in, three years ago.

Nearly all of the buildings in Dawson are built of logs. The warehouses and hotels and other particularly large buildings are covered with corrugated iron to keep them from catching fire, for there is little protection, and a fire once started would sweep the town.

While the Canadian flag floats over the town of Dawson, more than 60 per cent. of the people living here are American citizens. A large percentage of the business of the town is done by per without artificial light. This letter Americans and Americans own most of is being written in a hotel room by an the best paying gold claims on the open window without artificial light creeks. The United States consul is and it now lacks but ten minutes of being without doubt the busiest man in the town.

Though Dawson is a mining camp, one would never know it unless he were told. It does not in any way have the appearance or the atmosphere of the mining camp as it is generally understood. It is as quiet and respectable as a New England village, and while there are saloons and dance halls in plenty, everything is quiet and unobtrusive, and it is necessary for the visitor to hunt out the places where the miners congregate and have their "good times" if he would see them. One may walk the streets at any hour of the night without meeting objectionable characters or being interfered with. In the winter conditions are reversed. Then there are days when Old Sol barely shows his face above the hills. Lights are necessary until 10 o'clock in the morning and they must be lighted again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The nights have not the pitchy darkness of the tropics, but they are

Base Ball of Years Ago.

The old timer was seated conveniently near the ticker giving the baseball score. The team was out of town and between innings there was a continual story-swapping match.

"Since so much interest is being taken in the game," said one, "a little reminiscence of how the game was played in the anthracite coal fields some 25 years ago, will prove interesting."

"The young men of the region became acquainted with the game in 1867, but the following year it became a perfect rage in all the coal counties, every village having one or two clubs. Previous to the introduction of baseball the game among the boys was 'Round the Town'."

"Now and then there were frequent tilts on the field over the decisions of the umpire, and when it happened, bedlam broke loose. Each contending crowd would surround the umpire, some saying that he was wrong, while others yelled that he was right. During the shouting and surging around the umpire's chair, for in those days he was provided with a chair and umbrella, there were apt to be a few blows exchanged between the enthusiastic adherents of both sides, but it never broke up the game. During the tumult the captains of the teams would get together and after a little good natured bickering on both sides, would agree on a settlement, and their decision would be law, the umpire feeling perfectly satisfied. It being an easy way for him to get out of the scrape. The spectators would then resume their places, no seats, everybody squatted on the ground."

"The game in a way resembled a county fair, booths being erected around the edge of the field, where all sorts of drinks and sandwiches were sold."

"The diamond was the same then as now, but there was very little infield play, it being a regular slugger's match from the beginning to the end. The pitcher had to put the ball with a stiff arm. The catcher stood 10 or 15 feet behind the batter and in nearly every instance caught the ball on the ground. The catcher who could stand close to the batter and catch the ball on the fly was looked upon as a wonder. The umpire was seated about six feet to the right of the batter, and the home club provided him with a strong umbrella to keep the sun or rain from annoying him, for he it known that neither a melting sun nor a pitchfork downpour could stop a game in those days."

"When the batter stepped up to the plate the umpire asked whether he wanted balls shoulder high, hip high or knee high. If it was hip high he held his bat in that position until the ball came where he wanted it. The umpire having informed the pitcher beforehand where the batter desired it and he had the privilege of waiting for a half day until he got the ball at his favorite height. Every runner had to be tagged with the ball on first base before he was declared out."

None of the players were allowed to wear anything on their hands. Gloves, masks and pads were unknown then. It was a hard and tiresome game, particularly with the outfielders, who were constantly on the run, as a majority of the cuts came through fly catching. To the spectators it was an interesting and pleasant pastime. It took four or five hours to play a game, the play often being delayed by a lost ball, for there was only one ball in a game, and when some player would brush it out over the field into the spectators would start out to look for it, probably losing a quarter of an hour's time before it was found and put into play again."

"At the end of each game the captains of the contending clubs would meet on the home plate and shake hands in the presence of the spectators and players and deliver short congratulatory speeches; then the umpire would be handed the score book and would announce the winner."

Both Local and General.

The Boston National League team easily defeated Columbus at Neil Park Monday by a score of 10 to 1. Lefty Snyder pitched for Columbus and was hit safely 14 times, while the Senators could do practically nothing with Victor Willis, who allowed only five hits. Kid Purtell, who has been playing good ball this season for Idlewild, was at third for the Columbus team, and his work in the field was very clever. He did nothing at the bat, however.

Cleveland-Cincinnati Game, Oct. 7.
On Wednesday, October 7, the greatest game of baseball ever played in Newark will be put on at Idlewild Park, when the Cincinnati Reds, who finished fourth in the National League, and the Cleveland Blues, who took third in the American League, will battle for the championship of Ohio. The game in Newark is one of ten games to be played by these two clubs, one being in Columbus, one here and the rest divided between Cincinnati and Cleveland.

The rivalry between these two teams is intense and extends to the followers or the fortunes of each team. In Newark there is probably a preponderance of sentiment in favor of Joe Kelley's team, but Lajoie and his great team of hitters have many friends among the fan population.

This game was secured for Newark by the management of the Idlewild baseball team, and the idea was in this case, as it has been all season, to give the people of Newark the very best obtainable in this line of sport.

Practically the entire proceeds of the game go to the two clubs and the local management do not expect to make any money on the game.

Guy Jones Leaves Denison.
Guy Jones, captain of last year's Denison football team, who returned to college for post-graduate work, has left Granville for Piqua, where he will teach this year. Jones was going to play football this year, and as he was one of the greatest players Denison ever had, his place on the squad will be hard to fill.

Piqua Outclasses Urbana.
Urbana, O., Sept. 29.—The second game between Piqua and Urbana for a $200 purse and the amateur championship of the state was played here Monday before a crowd of 750 people and the locals were shut out.

Farrell's pitching for the Piquas was masterly and speedy and the hits were well scattered. On the other hand, Simonon was very wild, sending men successively to base on balls.

A triple play made by the Urbanas in the sixth inning was the first seen on the local grounds and the crowd went wild. With three men on bases, Nugent hit a liner to Bateman at short who touched the runner passing and then threw to first catching the runner there. The third and last game will be played Thursday in Sidney. Score:

Piqua . . . 0 2 1 1 0 0 1 0—5 7 1
Batteries—Simonon and McAdam's; Ferrell and Simon. Struck out—By Simonon, 5; by Ferrell, 9. Base on balls—Off Simonon, 6. Wild pitch—Simonon. Hit by pitched ball—Ferrell, 1. Earned runs—Piqua 1. Left on bases—Urbana, 6; Piqua, 7. Two-base hits—Theiss, McAdams (Urbana); Vessell (Piqua). Home run—Tolman (Piqua). Sacrifice hit—Bateman (Urbana). Simon (Piqua). Triple play—Bateman and Snodgrass. Umpire—Kinney, of Sidney.

Y. M. C. A. Football Practice.
There were 15 men on the Y. M. C. A. athletic field Monday night trying for positions on the football team. Clarence Dille, who is assisting Captain Martin put the men through the paces at a fast clip, and most of the candidates showed marked ability to learn the game and get into the plays.

Dille will probably play in the game Saturday with the Neil Athletic club of Columbus which will be called at 2 30 o'clock. At two o'clock the High School team will line up against the Granville Academy team, so that those who attend will see two good games played.

Dr. Smith Purchases Selma.
Dr. D. M. Smith on Sunday received his valuable thoroughbred bloodhound Selma which he recently purchased from Colonel Roger Williams, of Lexington, Ky., for $700.

Selma is a black and tan bitch, who is bred up in the poodle, her sire being Champion Jack Sheppard, who recently died after having set a record for men trailed to the penitentiary by bloodhounds. Selma's mother is Caliope, a famous bitch who has also made a marvelous record in the convict camps and penitentiaries of the South. Selma expects a litter of puppies by Slenth, one of the most famous of this breed of dogs.

Lecture Course.
Granville, O., Sept. 29.—The lecture course for this year will be given under the management of Mr. Arthur L. Judson and will be the only course in Granville. It will consist of four musical numbers and two lectures. The lectures will be given by Leland T. Powers and Congressman Littlefield. Such artists as Madam Hissen De Mon soprano of New York, the Cleveland Philharmonic String Quartette and Dr. Henry G. Hanchett, pianist and lecturer, of New York. The latter will give four lecture-recitals of interest to those who care for good music. The musical numbers will be given in the Retail Hall and the lectures in the town hall.

From Chicago on Trial at Tiffin for Trying to Wreck Trains.

Tiffin, O., Sept. 29.—Anthony Valente, Arthur Mann, William Barener and Frank Raymes were bound over to the grand jury on a charge of placing obstructions on the B & O. tracks at Scipio station, four miles east of Tiffin. The boys range in age from 12 to 18 years and all hail from Chicago. They are said to have placed numerous pieces of iron on the rails which the section men claim would have surely wrecked one of the fast flyers but for the timely discovery of the obstruction. A message from Chicago states that the boys are wanted there for breaking into a car on the Illinois Central.

SUDDENLY ILL

AND HAD TO BE TAKEN OFF TRAIN AT NEWARK.

Fred G. White, National Lecturer for the Modern Woodmen, Poisoned by Canned Ham.

Fred G. White, National Lecturer for the Modern Woodmen of America, whose home is in Pontiac, Ill., who is announced to address an open meeting at Taylor Hall Wednesday night, was taken violently and suddenly ill on a Pan Handle train between Columbus and Newark Monday morning, and for a time it was feared the patient would die.

Mr. White on Sunday morning was en route from Indianapolis to Columbus, and the train on which he was riding was delayed several hours on account of a wreck. The passengers all missed their breakfasts, and were very hungry, so the party in which Mr. White traveled telegraphed ahead to Urbana to have lunch prepared to serve them on the train when it arrived. Among other things eaten were sandwiches made of canned ham, of which all ate heartily, Mr. White among the rest.

He went on to Columbus and spent the rest of the day in that city and remained over night. On Monday morning upon getting up he did not feel well and had no appetite for breakfast. Other symptoms of illness developed, but not wishing to disappoint an audience at Dennison, where he was to speak Monday evening, he took the noon train for that town at Columbus. Soon after he was seized with the most violent pains, which became worse constantly so that when Newark was reached the sufferer was nearly in a state of utter collapse.

At the depot Mr. Ned C. Sherburne, State Deputy Modern Woodmen, met Mr. White by appointment, to accompany him to Dennison.

Mr. Sherburne at once saw his friend's condition and instead of proceeding to Dennison the sick man was taken to the Hotel Warden, and put to bed, Dr. I. H. Robb being called to attend him. All afternoon and a good part of the night, the physicians and others worked with the sick man, and finally brought relief, and Tuesday morning he was so much improved that he insisted on going to Zanesville at noon, where he will speak tonight. He will also fill his Newark engagement tomorrow night.

Mr. White is satisfied that his illness was due to poisoning contained in the canned ham sandwiches eaten at Urbana.

He is one of the best known young men in Illinois, and very prominent in National Modern Woodmen affairs. He was deeply grateful for the promptness and kindness with which he was treated by Newark neighbors, and so expressed himself.

Death at Utica.

Utica, O., Sept. 29.—Mrs. L. A. Bell died at her home here at 7:30 this morning after a long illness at the age of about 60 years. The deceased, who was an admirable woman, was the mother of Ed. M. Bell of the City Drug Store, Newark, Rex Bell and Mrs. Fred Sperry.

The funeral will take place at 11 o'clock Thursday at the Bell church. The remains will leave the house on Thursday at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Nancy Vandivort.

Mrs. Nancy Vandivort, an aged lady of New Concord died at the home of her son, Samuel, in that town late Sunday night. She was about 70 years of age, and has been an invalid for years. For some time past she has made her home with her son, and for some weeks back she has been entirely helpless.

She leaves four sons, Samuel, at whose home she died; Joseph, a B. & O. conductor of New Concord; Jesse, of Mansfield, and James, who is some place in the west.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock.

Spanish War Camp

The attention of all honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American War and insurrection in the Philippines is called to the fact that they are all eligible to membership in the New Sam Williams Command of Spanish War Veterans. The report that there will be more than one command in Newark is erroneous as the city is not large enough to support two commands and a second one would have to get dispensation from Sam Williams Command anyway.

DEFENDANTS IN SUIT BROUGHT FOR DAMAGES

Sustained by Hat Manufacturing Firm as Result of Boycott, Must Pay $60,000.

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 29.—A temporary victory was scored by the defendants in the suit of D. E. Lowe & Co., hat makers, in Danbury, who are backed by the American Anti-Boycott association, against the officers of the American Federation of Labor, the officers of the United Hatters of North America and 250 members of the United Hatters as individuals.

After a hearing before Judge Wheeler, of the superior court, the amount of attachment was reduced to $60,000. This was a very substantial reduction as the real estate covered by attachment is held at an assessed valuation of $128,000.

This hearing was on a motion by counsel for the defendant for the reduction of the amount of attachment for an order for the substitution of a bond for the property attached and for an order requiring the oral examination of the members of the firm of D. E. Lowe & Co. as to the actual amount of damages sustained by the firm in consequence of the strike and boycott.

Attorney Daniel Davenport, chief counsel for the American Anti-Boycott association, offered as a response himself as to the amount of damage sustained. The affidavit, in effect, was: That the plaintiffs in the year ending August 1, 1932, had sold their product in seventeen states, and had collected therefore $310,000, and that the condition of business at that time was such as to warrant the belief that its volume would be even greater in the year ending August 1, 1933, except for the injury sustained through the acts of the defendants as alleged.

To substantiate this view the affidavit included a long extract from the address of John A. Moffit, president of the United Hatters of North America, at the last convention of the organization in New York last May, in which he told of the fight of the organization against several hat manufacturers, to show that boycotting had been effective in compelling them to unionize their shop.

In the address reference was also made to the resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor in its Scranton convention, pledging the Federation and its members against buying or using hats made by a certain firm in Philadelphia. The affidavit declared: "That the direct result of the acts of the defendants was to diminish the sale of the Lowe firm's product by the amount of $167,000, a loss of forty per cent. of what it would have been otherwise; and in January, 1933, the business, instead of showing a profit of $23,000, showed a loss of more than $22,000, a damage of $45,000; that since January 1, 1933, the business has been run at a loss and many of the firm's customers have ceased altogether to buy of them; that the natural, probable and intended result is that before the suit is done the business will be further damaged in the loss of customers and trade and the good will of the business and the tying up and rendering useless the capital of the plaintiffs

AT DRESDEN

Villagers Who Stepped Up to the Bar Wore Masks When Anti-Screen Ordinance Took Effect.

Coshocton, O., Sept. 29.—An "anti-screen ordinance" went into effect in the village of Dresden Saturday night. There are four saloons in the village and all did a thriving business in spite of the fact that there was no obstruction to the public gaze.

Strange faces appeared at the bar. Men entering the back doors were supplied with false faces, and with an enlarged mouth, the masks made an effective covering. Others brought umbrellas and would drink in peace under the sheltering spread of canvas. Business is said to have been more brisk than for several weeks.
